OHIO PREPARES TO RECEIVE HER NOTED SON

THOUSANDS POUR UPON BIER THEIR SORROW AND LOVE

PRESIDENT CAME BACK TO HIS HOME TOWN, MARION, COLD
IN DEATH

MAJESTY OF SERVICE GRAVEN UPON HARDING'S STILL FACE

(By United Press)

On Board President Harding's
Funeral Train, Aug. 9.—Ohio,
mother of six presidents, received back today the latest of her sons to add luster to her name. Thousands poured upon the bier their message of sorrow
and love.

Warren G. Harding came back to his home town this morning. Years ago he went from them, richly endowed with health and full of the splendid vigor of robust manhood.
He came back today pale and cold
in death, the majesty of his service graven upon his still face—back to the mother state that stands with outstretched arms to receive him to his rest.

The funeral train from Washington entered Ohio early today. It was scheduled to end its journey at Marion at about 9:30 a. m., central standard time. There the body of Marion's most distinguished citizen was to be turned over to tear-blinded relatives, friends and neighbors who awaited it.

The coffin, wrapped in the flag of the country Mr. Harding served so well again was the center of eyes
during the night and early morning
as the people came to look the farewell they could not put into words.
Beginning at Baltimore, one hour
out of Washington, and continuing through York, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburgh, the scenes that marked the train's transcontinental progress eastward were re-enacted as it sped through the night and dawn. At Baltimore a rain storm drenched the thousands who awaited
the train's arrival, but no one left until the lights of the funeral special faded into the distance. At York, Pa., silver horns played the strains of "Lead Kindly Light," which thousands sang.

Harrisburg, Pa., the capital, expressed fittingly the sorrow which the Keystone State felt for her sister commonwealth to the west. At Altoona the lines of mourners stood in reverent silence as the train glided
by.

At Pittsburgh for the second time in two days thousands stood uncovered in the semi-gloom of the dawn.
Everywhere the train stopped flowers were put on board.

Mrs. Harding rested well after her trying day in Washington yesterday.
She was somewhat distressed by reports that she had collapsed. There was no foundation for such reports.
Her step was as firm, her calm as unshaken when she boarded the train in Washington last night as at any time during the day. She was very tired, and retired at once to her stateroom, where she asked that newspapers containing stories of the state funeral be brought to her. It was but a short time before she went to sleep.

Only those close to Mrs. Harding realize what sorrow she is undergoing and what it is costing her to appear outwardly strong and composed while grief racks her frail body, but they are confident her magnificent will is going to carry her through the final rites. What may happen then they dare not guess
but until then they do not fear that she will break down.

CHIROPODIST SAYS FEMININE BEAUTY LIES IN THE FEET

New York, Aug. 9.—Feminine beauty lies in the feet rather than in the features, Dr. F. E. Hayden, retiring president, declared before the National Association of Chiro-podists today. "If every young man who proposes to the lady of his heart would demand a photograph of her arches instead of a portrait of her head, this world would be full of happy marriages," he added.

"By their feet may you know
them," he said.

Dr. Hayden asserted he had examined the pedal extremities of 500 co-eds at the University of Kansas and found only two perfect pairs, one possessed by a Chinese. Among 250 co-eds at the New Hampshire university, he said, he found not a single pair
that he would class A-1.

to carry them in deep reverence to Warren G. Harding's home town, where he will be buried.

His vice-president, now the nation's chief executive, his supreme court, his senate, his house of representatives, his officials and his friends will travel far—abandoning the necessities of government — to follow their chief while his body is borne to the grave.

The government train leaves at 10 p. m. and will arrive in Marion Friday.

Mr. Coolidge is suffering from the strain. A week ago he was a jovial vice-president on a vacation in the remote regions of the Green Mountains. His face was tanned; he had no worries; his world was carefree;
but since then his country called.
The change in his physical appearance was particularly noticeable
when he paid homage with other national officials to the departed spirit of Mr. Harding yesterday. Mr.
Coolidge is not a nervous man, nor one easily robbed of his physical strength, but the strain he is undergoing is apparent in his deep-sunk eyes—pitted with unshed tears.

The mourning services, the terrible heat and the strain of affairs has already had its effect upon him, just as the strain of office bore down the two presidents who went before. The farewell of the capital to the body of Mr. Harding was the most impressive ceremony of the heart-rending nineteen hours the remains were here.

Just like Mr. Coolidge, the faces of the government officials showed pale furrows of sorrow and strain.
Attorney General Daugherty, the president's closest friend, was perhaps the most deeply affected of them all. The death of Mr. Harding culminated a series of personal and official misfortunes for him. The last journey of the body of Mr. Harding in Washington was made down from the capitol to the station thru endless aisles of silence, while Mr.
Coolidge and the Harding cabinet, which he is for the present retaining, stood with hats crossed upon their breasts. The same mar-band that greeted the body the night before bade it farewell with the strains of "Lead Kindly Light."

CUNO PLACES HIS POLITICAL FATE IN THE REICHSTAG

CHANCELLOR OF GERMANY WILL CONTINUE AS LONG AS HE GETS BACKING

STERNLY PLEDGES THAT PAS- SIVE RESISTANCE WILL BE CONTINUED

(By United Press)

Berlin, Aug. 9.—Chancellor
Cuno has placed his political fate
in the hands of the Reichstag, announcing he will administer
the affairs of state only as long as he possesses the backing of parliament.

Many elements of the "left" are organizing to see that he does not get the vote of confidence he has requested.

Cuno's stand in beginning the opening session Wednesday was a fighting one—he accused France of disorganizing Germany politically and economically, seeking simultaneously to enforce payment and to break up the country. France seeks to impose new penalties and exact promises which cannot be fulfilled for decades, so that France may at once be the "ruler and destroyer of Europe," the chancellor charged.

Cuno sternly pledged that passive resistance will go on until it is known exactly what France's demands are.

At the opening of the session the House stood in commemoration of President Harding.

COOLIDGE LOOMS AS BIG FACTOR IN 1924 CAMPAIGN

ATTITUDE TOWARD NEW EXECU- TIVE CHANGES AS G. O. P. LEADERS MEET HEAD

EXPECTED TO PROCEED CAUTI- OUSLY ON WORLD COURT— MAY AVOID PARTY SPLIT

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Coolidge's availability as a candidate to succeed himself next year is being carefully assessed by party leaders who have been arriving in Washington in large numbers during the past day or so.

This time is inappropriate for them to be doing any talking for publication of next year's nomination, but they are losing no time in visiting the president's headquarters at the Williard to pay their respects and to establish contact with the new chief executive. They are making searching inquiry into the political outlook and after the late President Harding's funeral is over there will be much public discussion of the subject.

Attitude Toward Coolidge Changes

A noticeable change in the attitude of party leaders toward the new president has come about within the last 48 hours. As vice president, Mr. Coolidge made no very favorable impression upon them, and it is no secret that some of them were trying to devise means for quietly shelving him
when the vice presidential nomination was made next year.

One of the first political reactions
following the death of President Harding was the almost universal view
among political observers that Mr.
Coolidge would not be a dominant figure in the republican convention next year. This view, it was learned today through conversations with leaders who have come to Washington for the funeral, has changed almost overnight. There appears to be a sudden realization that Mr. Coolidge has it within his power to make himself a formidable candidate for the nomination next year.

President Pleases Callers

The manner with which he has conducted himself in the numerous conferences he has held during the last two or three days is partly responsible for this change of view. Those who have seen him say that he has given evidences of strength which he never revealed in the vice presidency.
He shows himself to be a good listener and does little talking. He is not likely to make many false moves.
In fact, he is not likely to make any moves until he has carefully consulted leaders representing all factions within the party and making sure that his plans can be put through.

They are convinced now, they say, that he will proceed with extreme caution on the world court, notwithstanding the declaration of his intention to carry on the Harding policies. They do not expect him to make the court an issue with the senate and risk the Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 9.—After only 15 minutes deliberation a jury late yesterday acquitted Charles L.

Ferguson, charged with the murder of Eugene Griffin.

Ferguson shot and killed Griffin after an altercation over a noisy rooster kept by the former.

Griffin threatened to kill the rooster
because it crowed early in the morning. Before daylight July 18, Fergusson heard an intruder in his chicken house. He commanded the man to throw up his hands. Griffin refused and fired two shots. Ferguson fired back and Griffin dropped dead. The rooster, with its neck wrung, dropped from his hands.

chance of a party split. For Mr. Coolidge to make a strong fight in behalf of the world court, they point out, would be to play into the hands of his most powerful enemy, Senator Hiram Johnson (rep. Calif.). Senator Johnson is fighting the world court. He wants the question carried to the people for a decision. If Mr. Coolidge undertakes to push the court, the issue between him and Senator Johnson would become clearly defined with the advantage most likely to be on Johnson's side. Mr. Coolidge is believed to fully realize this and he is not likely to go out of his way to furnish the California senator with a cause for war.

COOLIDGE IN EARLY MORNING STROLL

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 9.—President
Coolidge strolled through the streets of Washington this morning with the milkmen.

The new president has put in practice a schedule of early morning walks for exercise that is denied him during the day. Since he was a farmer boy he has been getting up before 5 a. m. every morning. On his vacation in Vermont he used to arise early and stroll through the field before the dew was off the grass.

Two secret service men, who guard his door day and night, accompanied him when he started from the temporary White House at 5:45 a. m.
He was out about half an hour.

ORGANIZATION TO FOLLOW BRAINERD CONFERENCE HELD

MEETING TO BE FOURTH IN A SERIES NOTED LEADER TO MAKE IN MINNESOTA

COUNTY AGENT E. G. ROTH IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN OF ARRANGEMENTS HERE

Organization of potato growers in Crow Wing county and other counties still untouched is expected to follow the cooperative marketing address that Aaron Sapiro is to make at Brainerd on Sept. 13.

Mr. Sapiro's address will be the fourth of a series of six he is to make at up-state points in Minnesota, following his State Fair speech on Sept.
6. On that day he is to be principal speaker on the annual Farm Bureau
Day program.

On Monday, Sept. 10, Mr. Sapiro will be at Crookston, at Moorhead on Sept. 11 and at Detroit on Sept. 12.
After leaving Brainerd he will speak in Stearns county and at Princeton.

The series of speeches is being arranged by the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, persons interested in the potato marketing movement, local Farm Bureau leaders and potato growers and business men generally.

E. G. Roth, Crow Wing's county agent, is general chairman of arrangements for the Brainerd meeting.
Working with him will be County Agent A. W. Jacob, John Merritt of Aitkin, John Classen of Little Falls,
V. Lockwood of Motley and others.
Mr. Roth still has to name committeemen to represent Pequot, Pine River and Pillager.

All steps toward perfecting a potato organization in Crow Wing county will be held in abeyance until after the Sapiro meeting. This plan has been agreed to by local leaders, cooperating with the state office at St.
Paul. However, between now and the Sapiro meeting, steps leading up to organization work will be taken. A county committee will be formed,
John Merritt already having accepted an appointment as member of the state organization committee from Crow Wing.

However, potato organization will be vigorously prosecuted in other sections of the state. Energetic work is now in progress in the Red River valley counties and the state office is finishing up its early work in counties in the central and northeastern parts of the state.

Mr. Sapiro's Brainerd address will be on the general subject of co-operative marketing, taking up especially the necessity for a better potato outlet. He will explain what has been accomplished in other states, not only with potatoes, but with fruits in California, cotton in the south, tobacco in Kentucky and many other commodities. In the potato field, Maine already has completed organization work and is now entering upon sales operations. A campaign has been completed in Colorado and Idaho is in the midst of one.

The Minnesota campaign is progressing remarkably well, according to
S. G. Rubinow, in charge. The 1,000th contract was signed late in July.
Becker county is leading in the number of contracts signed as well as in the aggregate acreage. Red Lake, Beltrami, Clearwater and Winona counties already have obtained 50 per cent of the commercial acreage, as required in the contract and local leaders are at work to raise the acreage contract to 75 or 80 per cent. In the vicinity of Callaway, in Becker county, 70 per cent of the growers have already signed.

I, Con O'Brien, as Mayor of the City of Brainerd, do hereby request that the usual activities of our citizens be suspended and that we gather at Gregory Park between the hours of 3 and 4 p. m., Friday, August 10th.

COOLIDGE LOOMS AS BIG FACTOR IN 1924 CAMPAIGN

ATTITUDE TOWARD NEW EXECUTIVE
CHANGES AS G. O. P.
LEADERS MEET HEAD

EXPECTED TO PROCEED CAUTIOUSLY ON WORLD COURT—
MAY AVOID PARTY SPLIT

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Coolidge's availability as a candidate to succeed himself next year is being carefully assessed by party leaders who have been arriving in Washington in large numbers during the past day or so.

This time is inappropriate for them to be doing any talking for publication of next year's nomination, but they are losing no time in visiting the president's headquarters at the Willard to pay their respects and to establish contact with the new chief executive. They are making searching inquiry into the political outlook and after the late President Harding's funeral is over there will be much public discussion of the subject.

Attitude Toward Coolidge Changes

A noticeable change in the attitude of party leaders toward the new president has come about within the last 48 hours. As vice president, Mr. Coolidge made no very favorable impression upon them, and it is no secret that some of them were trying to devise means for quietly shelving him when the vice presidential nomination was made next year.

One of the first political reactions following the death of President Harding was the almost universal view among political observers that Mr. Coolidge would not be a dominant figure in the republican convention next year. This view, it was learned today through conversations with leaders who have come to Washington for the funeral, has changed almost overnight. There appears to be a sudden realization that Mr. Coolidge has it within his power to make himself a formidable candidate for the nomination next year.

President Pleases Callers

The manner with which he has conducted himself in the numerous conferences he has held during the last two or three days is partly responsible for this change of view. Those who have seen him say that he has given evidences of strength which he never revealed in the vice presidency. He shows himself to be a good listener and does little talking. He is not likely to make many false moves. In fact, he is not likely to make any moves until he has carefully consulted leaders representing all factions within the party and making sure that his plans can be put through.

They are convinced now, they say, that he will proceed with extreme caution on the world court, notwithstanding the declaration of his intention to carry on the Harding policies. They do not expect him to make the court an issue with the senate and risk the Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 9.—After only 15 minutes deliberation a jury yesterday acquitted Charles L. Ferguson, charged with the murder of Eugene Griffin.

Ferguson shot and killed Griffin after an altercation over a noisy rooster kept by the former.

Griffin threatened to kill the rooster because it crowed early in the morning. Before daylight July 18, Ferguson heard an intruder in his chicken house. He commanded the man to throw up his hands. Griffin refused and fired two shots. Ferguson fired back and Griffin dropped dead. The rooster, with its neck wrung, dropped from his hands.

The gun used by Griffin was found later in the garden by Ferguson's wife.

chance of a party split. For Mr. Coolidge to make a strong fight in behalf of the world court, they point out, would be to play into the hands of his most powerful enemy, Senator Hiram Johnson (rep. Calif.). Senator Johnson is fighting the world court. He wants the question carried to the people for a decision. If Mr. Coolidge undertakes to push the court, the issue between him and Senator Johnson would become clearly defined with the advantage most likely to be on Johnson's side. Mr. Coolidge is believed to fully realize this and he is not likely to go out of his way to furnish the California senator with a cause for war.

COOLIDGE IN EARLY MORNING STROLL

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Coolidge strolled through the streets of Washington this morning with the milkmen.

The new president has put in practice a schedule of early morning walks for exercise that is denied him during the day. Since he was a farmer boy he has been getting up before 5 a. m. every morning. On his vacation in Vermont he used to arise early and stroll through the field before the dew was off the grass.

Two secret service men, who guard his door day and night, accompanied him when he started from the temporary White House at 5:45 a. m. He was out about half an hour.

ORGANIZATION TO FOLLOW BRAINERD CONFERENCE HELD

MEETING TO BE FOURTH IN A SERIES NOTED LEADER TO MAKE IN MINNESOTA

COUNTY AGENT E. G. ROTH IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN OF ARRANGEMENTS HERE

Organization of potato growers in Crow Wing county and other counties still untouched is expected to follow the cooperative marketing address that Aaron Sapiro is to make at Brainerd on Sept. 13.

Mr. Sapiro's address will be the fourth of a series of six he is to make at up-state points in Minnesota, following his State Fair speech on Sept. 6. On that day he is to be principal speaker on the annual Farm Bureau Day program.

On Monday, Sept. 10, Mr. Sapiro will be at Crookston, at Moorhead on Sept. 11 and at Detroit on Sept. 12.

After leaving Brainerd he will speak in Stearns county and at Princeton.

The series of speeches is being arranged by the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, persons interested in the potato marketing movement, local Farm Bureau leaders and potato growers and business men generally.

E. G. Roth, Crow Wing's county agent, is general chairman of arrangements for the Brainerd meeting. Working with him will be County Agent A. W. Jacob, John Merritt of Aitkin, John Classen of Little Falls, V. Lockwood of Motley and others. Mr. Roth still has to name committeemen to represent Pequot, Pine River and Pillager.

All steps toward perfecting a potato organization in Crow Wing county will be held in abeyance until after the Sapiro meeting. This plan has been agreed to by local leaders, co-operating with the state office at St. Paul. However, between now and the Sapiro meeting, steps leading up to organization work will be taken. A county committee will be formed, John Merritt already having accepted an appointment as member of the state organization committee from Crow Wing.

However, potato organization will be vigorously prosecuted in other sections of the state. Energetic work is now in progress in the Red River valley counties and the state office is finishing up its early work in counties in the central and northeastern parts of the state.

Mr. Sapiro's Brainerd address will be on the general subject of co-operative marketing, taking up especially the necessity for a better potato outlet. He will explain what has been accomplished in other states, not only with potatoes, but with fruits in California, cotton in the south, tobacco in Kentucky and many other commodities. In the potato field, Maine already has completed organization work and is now entering upon sales operations. A campaign has been completed in Colorado and Idaho is in the midst of one.

The Minnesota campaign is progressing remarkably well, according to S. G. Rubinow, in charge. The 1,000th contract was signed late in July. Becker county is leading in the number of contracts signed as well as in the aggregate acreage. Red Lake, Beltrami, Clearwater and Winona counties already have obtained 50 per cent of the commercial acreage, as required in the contract and local leaders are at work to raise the acreage contract to 75 or 80 per cent. In the vicinity of Callaway, in Becker county, 70 per cent of the growers have already signed.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Appeal May be Taken In Case Involving Altercation on Street Last Night

In municipal court this morning, Louis Sherman and Dr. A. Steinfeldt were arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The trouble grew out of a fight between these men on Wednesday evening about nine o'clock. The trouble started in the offices of Dr. Steinfeldt above the Lyceum theatre and was continued down on the street in front of the playhouse. It ended when the men ran across the street toward the popcorn wagon and Sherman was knocked down by the doctor.

Judge J. H. Warner found both men guilty as charged and imposed a fine of $25 on each. It is understood that an appeal will be taken.

The arrest was made by Captain Erick Graft, who also made the complaint.

John McNaughton, charged with reckless driving, in colliding with a bicycle on which Wilfred Cartwright and Denzel Britton were riding, was tried on Wednesday afternoon. The charge was changed to driving without proper automobile lights, and McNaughton plead guilty, paying a fine of $25.

George H. Gendron and Fayette Hackett Struck by Car Which Leaped Curb

DRIVEN BY A ST. CLOUD MAN

Latter Michael B. Miller, Retired Mail Carrier, Arraigned in Municipal Court

George H. Gendron was quietly injured and Fayette Hackett rendered unconscious when a Buick coupe driven by Michael B. Miller of St. Cloud struck them at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the corner of South Seventh and Oak streets.

According to stories given the police, Mr. Gendron and Mr. Hackett were walking west on Oak street, going home from their work in the N. P. shops. They had just crossed the intersection of Seventh and Oak when Miller's car in making the turn from Oak on to Seventh took a wide swing, jumped the curb and struck the two men who were walking.

Mr. Hackett was rendered unconscious from the impact and Mr. Gendron was cut about the hips and legs. Both men were confined to their beds today.

In the car with Miller was a daughter of George Edwards, 609 Kingwood street, who is a relative of the St. Cloud man, and where he is visiting. Miller was formerly a mail carrier at St. Cloud, but had been pensioned.

He was arraigned in municipal court this morning, charged with reckless driving, and his case continued until two o'clock this afternoon.

The trouble grew out of a fight between these men on Wednesday evening about nine o'clock. The trouble started in the offices of Dr. Steinfeldt above the Lyceum theatre and was continued down on the street in front of the playhouse. It ended when the men ran across the street toward the popcorn wagon and Sherman was knocked down by the doctor.

Judge J. H. Warner found both men guilty as charged and imposed a fine of $25 on each. It is understood that an appeal will be taken.

The arrest was made by Captain Erick Graft, who also made the complaint.

John McNaughton, charged with reckless driving, in colliding with a bicycle on which Wilfred Cartwright and Denzel Britton were riding, was tried on Wednesday afternoon. The charge was changed to driving without proper automobile lights, and McNaughton plead guilty, paying a fine of $25.

CAR STRIKES AND HURTS TWO MEN

George H. Gendron and Fayette Hackett Struck by Car Which Leaped Curb

DRIVEN BY A ST. CLOUD MAN

Latter Michael B. Miller, Retired Mail Carrier, Arraigned in Municipal Court

George H. Gendron was quietly injured and Fayette Hackett rendered unconscious when a Buick coupe driven by Michael B. Miller of St. Cloud struck them at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the corner of South Seventh and Oak streets.

According to stories given the police, Mr. Gendron and Mr. Hackett were walking west on Oak street, going home from their work in the N. P. shops. They had just crossed the intersection of Seventh and Oak when Miller's car in making the turn from Oak on to Seventh took a wide swing, jumped the curb and struck the two men who were walking.

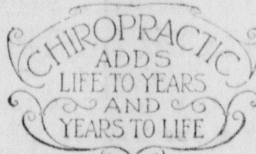

Mr. Hackett was rendered unconscious from the impact and Mr. Gendron was cut about the hips and legs. Both men were confined to their beds today.

In the car with Miller was a daughter of George Edwards, 609 Kingwood street, who is a relative of the St. Cloud man, and where he is visiting. Miller was formerly a mail carrier at St. Cloud, but had been pensioned.

He was arraigned in municipal court this morning, charged with reckless driving, and his case continued until two o'clock this afternoon.

EXPLAINS TENETS OF TRUE LIONISM

Dr. G. Phil Sheridan, Former Pastor of 1st Congregational Church
Here, is Speaker

GOAL 100 PCT. AMERICANISM

Every Club Preaching Loyalty to Country, to God and Home,
Exemplified by Harding

Dr. G. Phil Sheridan, former pastor of the First Congregational church of Brainerd, now of Fairbault gave the memorial address on President Harding at the weekly luncheon of the local Lions club Wednesday evening.

Dr. Sheridan enumerated the ideals of Lionism, pointing out that each was a part of the President's code of ethics, that he lived up to them vigorously.

One hundred percent Americanism is the goal of every Lions club, said Dr. Sheridan, who is a member of the Fairbault den. Every club is preaching loyalty to country, to God and to the home. Add to this the respect for womanhood, which is a part of the Lion's creed, and one has the ideals which were always advocated by the late president and which were a part of his personal creed.

Dr. G. I. Badeaux sang "Lead Kindly Light" President Harding's favorite hymn. Harding's life was divided into four epochs, Boyhood, youth, as a newspaper man, and as president.

The first section was described by Walter Cleary, the second by L. F. Hough, the third by R. S. Wilcox and the last by Walter M. Murphy. Many personal stories were told about the life of America's first citizen, which gave all a new insight into the man's true greatness.

Bebe Daniels in "Pink Gods"

Bebe Daniels, beautiful Paramount star, is featured in the new Paramount picture "Pink Gods" which was shown at the Lyceum theatre last night. She is cast opposite James Kirkwood who plays the part of John Quelch, an African diamond merchant. Miss Daniels and Mr. Kirkwood have many opportunities to demonstrate their abilities to carry off an emotional scene successfully. The picture, directed by Penrhyn Stanlaws, is not overdone and proves unusually interesting. Anna Q. Nilsson and Raymond Hatton are well cast. The picture is being shown again tonight.

Action Abounds in Alice Brady's "Missing Millions"

The spectacle of two sets of high class crooks striving for the same prize—a shipment of gold in the strong room of a ship at sea—is presented in "Missing Millions," a new Paramount picture starring Alice Brady which will be the feature at the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday.

Miss Brady as Mary Dawson and David Powell as Boston Blackie attempt to steal the gold as a matter of vengeance on Jim Cantwell (Frank Losee), a treacherous Wall Street broker, who "railroaded" Mary's father to Sing Sing prison. The plan of this pair is exciting enough in itself, but when two international thieves come on the scene and try for the gold at the same time, the action becomes thrilling indeed.

VOTED DEMOCRATIC TICKET; URGED AS HAVING SOUND MIND

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 9.—Does the fact that the late Michael O'Brien of Eden Valley voted the Democratic ticket last November prove that his mind was clear?

This question was weighed by Judge John A. Roeser in district court today in the contest of the deceased man's will.

His estate of $20,000 was left to one son. Another son and two daughters are contesting the will on the grounds that he was not of sound mind. John Cassidy, town officer testified that he believed O'Brien to be fully possessed of his faculties, giving as one reason that he voted the Democratic ticket as always last November.

PITCHED BATTLE, DEPUTIES, STRIKERS

(By United Press)
Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 9.—One union striker was shot and two deputy sheriffs were seriously wounded in a pitched battle between strikers and deputies at the plant of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company here today.

Officials of the company asked for troops, but Governor Len Small sent Dan Dineen, of Decatur, a Department of Labor mediator, here to investigate. It is believed troops will be called unless the situation is easier by tonight.

COULD DR. THACHER MAKE FAIRER OFFER THAN THIS?

If Dr. Thacher had come to Brainerd and offered to write a prescription that had been thoroughly tested in cases of indigestion, constipation, lack of nerve energy, impoverished and impure blood, rheumatism and a general rundown condition of the system, could anything be fairer than a standing guarantee to return your money unless you got complete satisfaction and relief?

This, in effect, is what the Dr. Thacher Laboratories have done in offering Dr. Thacher's celebrated prescription to those who are literally suffering for the need of a nourishing, strength-building tonic. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is an ideal summer tonic, because it is purely vegetable, pleasant to take and well suited to the delicate stomach. It has helped thousands of men, women and children to improve appetite, strengthen digestion, overcome constipation, tone the torpid liver and bowels and send purer and healthier blood coursing thru the veins, bringing back that delightful feeling of health, strength and "pep."

Take a delicious tablespoonful after the next meal. Notice in less than two days how much better you eat, sleep and feel. Keep it up for a week or 10 days; the cost is only a trifle and you wouldn't trade your restored health and energy for any price. Sold under this standing guarantee in Brainerd at Johnson's Pharmacy.

"Divorce" at the New Park Last
Time Tonight

What is the great underlying cause of divorce? Is it because romance just naturally fades away? Does the man usually tire of the woman or does the woman usually tire of the man? Is it because the other woman or the other man too frequently are responsible for the life separation?

Chester Bennett in his great social drama, "Divorce," starring Jane Novak, with the hand of a master, has painted a vivid, living series of motion paintings answering this great question which is the greatest problem civilization has been called upon to solve since the barbarians started to stamp out civilization following the fall of Rome. Bennett has exposed the fiery, baby-faced vampire who spends all her time trying to cause a married man to forget his wife.

He shows how the subtle, baby-faced vampire first starts her campaign of making the husband believe that his wife neither understands nor appreciates him and then shows how she gradually wins him away from his life mate.

These situations form the great basic theme in "Divorce." Jane Novak, the star, is being supported by an unusually strong cast, including John Bowers, who plays the leading masculine role, James Corrigan, Edythe Chapman, Margaret Livingston, Freeman Wood, George Fisher and Philippe de Lacy.

TWIN LAKES ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rooks of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Clute and son of Little Falls, spent a few days this week at the Wm. McDonald home. They left Wednesday for Aberdeen, S. D., for a short vacation.

The Twin Lakes farmers club met on August 2nd at the home of Mrs. Monteny. After a fine dinner, the business meeting was called. The topic decided upon for the Sept. 6th meeting was "What crop I have had the best success with," my method of raising same. The next meeting will be held at the Peter Johnson home.

An alfalfa dialogue by Oscar Olsen and Helmer Johnson was a feature of the Aug. 2nd meeting, and convinced many that this product deserves the attention it is receiving.

Rev. W. E. Reeve of Pequot will preach at the Nisawa school house on Sunday, August 12th, immediately following the Sunday school services which are held at 10:30 a. m. This may be the last opportunity to hear Rev. Reeve, as he leaves soon for conference. His many friends hope that he will be returned, as his sermons in the past

BRITISH CABINET CONSIDERS FRAMING REPLY TO FRANCE

(By United Press)

London, Aug. 9.—The British cabinet meets today to consider the replies this government should make to France and Belgium regarding their communications on the proposed British reparations note to Germany. It is reported the possibility of referring to the League of Nations the question of an invasion of the Ruhr is being discussed, although it seems unlikely Britain would do this officially.

Harvey to Quit as U. S. Envoy, London Hears

London, Aug. 9.—The Star publishes the following from New York.

"There is an unconfirmed report that Dr. John H. Finley, former New York commissioner of education, may succeed Colonel George Harvey as American ambassador in England.

It is considered probable that Harvey will shortly leave his post. He was appointed to it because of his close friendship with President Harding and his presence in this country at the moment is due to the fact that he was lending Harding his aid in the latter's 1924 campaign plans."

Two Sides of Turnover

The alert business man dealing with present day conditions knows that the big word today is "Turnover." Whether he be a merchant, manufacturer, jobber, or banker, he sees that one thing with a clear vision unbiased by the limits of his own business. It is in the air, and on the tip of every tongue.

And yet many of them—entirely too many—are thinking on only one side of Turnover. They think of it as meaning rapid selling—putting money in and getting it out quickly and at a profit. They realize that they must put greatly increased efforts back of all their plans for selling and distribution.

The other half of Turnover is the consumer. All selling plans and efforts fail if the consumer doesn't want to buy. His desire for the product must be created. He must meet the seller half way. He must be in a mood to buy before the salesman meets him across the counter.

That is the function of Advertising—to create consumer demand and consumer preference. With this demand as a fact all selling plans have a chance to succeed. Without it they fail. The only chance for salesmanship to succeed without an existing demand is for salesmanship to assume the task that belongs to advertising—the task of creating demand.

If the present efforts that are being put into selling were amply supported by a corresponding effort to create consumer demand through Advertising, the business conditions of this country would be rapidly changed into an era of great prosperity—in spite of Old World conditions and everything else.

The proof of this is in the fact that right now, under these very conditions, the manufacturers who are putting proper emphasis on creating a demand for their product, as well as selling it, are doing a big business and are actually getting the high turnover that others are trying so strenuously to get through intensive selling.

Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 9.—One union striker was shot and two deputy sheriffs were seriously wounded in a pitched battle between strikers and deputies at the plant of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company here today.

Officials of the company asked for troops, but Governor Len Small sent Dan Dineen, of Decatur, a Department of Labor mediator, here to investigate. It is believed troops will be called unless the situation is easier by tonight.

COULD DR. THACHER MAKE FAIRER OFFER THAN THIS?

If Dr. Thacher had come to Brainerd and offered to write a prescription that had been thoroughly tested in cases of indigestion, constipation, lack of nerve energy, impoverished and impure blood, rheumatism and a general rundown condition of the system, could anything be fairer than a standing guarantee to return your money unless you got complete satisfaction and relief?

This, in effect, is what the Dr. Thacher Laboratories have done in offering Dr. Thacher's celebrated prescription to those who are literally suffering for the need of a nourishing, strength-building tonic. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is an ideal summer tonic, because it is purely vegetable, pleasant to take and well

"Divorce" at the New Park Last Time Tonight

What is the great underlying cause of divorce? Is it because romance just naturally fades away? Does the man usually tire of the woman or does the woman usually tire of the man? Is it because the other woman or the other man too frequently are responsible for the life separation?

Chester Bennett in his great social drama, "Divorce," starring Jane Novak, with the hand of a master, has painted a vivid, living series of motion paintings answering this great question which is the greatest problem civilization has been called upon to solve since the barbarians started to stamp out civilization following the fall of Rome.

An alfalfa dialogue by Oscar Olsen and Helmer Johnson was a feature of the Aug. 2nd meeting, and convinced many that this product deserves the attention it is receiving.

BRITISH CABINET CONSIDERS FRAMING REPLY TO FRANCE

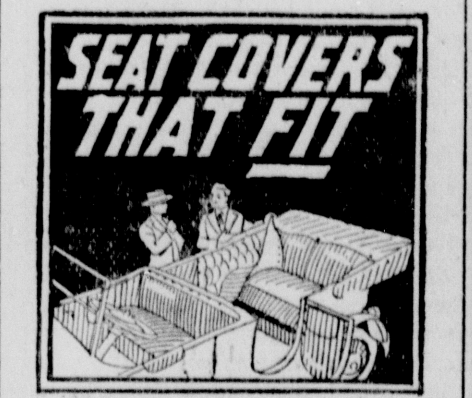

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 9.—The British cabinet meets today to consider the replies this government should make to France and Belgium regarding their communications on the proposed British reparations note to Germany. It is reported the possibility of referring to the League of Nations the question of an invasion of the Ruhr is being discussed, although it seems unlikely Britain would do this officially.

Harvey to Quit as U. S. Envoy, London Hears

London, Aug. 9.—The Star publishes the following from New York.

"There is an unconfirmed report that Dr. John H. Finley, former New York commissioner of education, may succeed Colonel George Harvey as American ambassador in England.

It is considered probable that Harvey will shortly leave his post. He was appointed to it because of his close friendship with President Harding and his presence in this country at the moment is due to the fact that he was lending Harding his aid in the latter's 1924 campaign plans."

Two Sides of Turnover

The alert business man dealing with present day conditions knows that the big word today is "Turnover." Whether he be a merchant, manufacturer, jobber, or banker, he sees that one thing with a clear vision unbiased by the limits of his own business. It is in the air, and on the tip of every tongue.

And yet many of them—entirely too many—are thinking on only one side of Turnover. They think of it as meaning rapid selling—putting money in and getting it out quickly and at a profit. They realize that they must put greatly increased efforts back of all their plans for selling and distribution.

The other half of Turnover is the consumer. All selling plans and efforts fail if the consumer doesn't want to buy. His desire for the product must be created. He must meet the seller half way. He must be in a mood to buy before the salesman meets him across the counter.

That is the function of Advertising—to create consumer demand and consumer preference. With this demand as a fact all selling plans have a chance to succeed. Without it they fail. The only chance for salesmanship to succeed without an existing demand is for salesmanship to assume the task that belongs to advertising—the task of creating demand.

If the present efforts that are being put into selling were amply supported by a corresponding effort to create consumer demand through Advertising, the business conditions of this country would be rapidly changed into an era of great prosperity—in spite of Old World conditions and everything else.

The proof of this is in the fact that right now, under these very conditions, the manufacturers who are putting proper emphasis on creating a demand for their product, as well as selling it, are doing a big business and are actually getting the high turnover that others are trying so strenuously to get through intensive selling.

A MORE BENEFICENT NATURAL ORDER

WILLIAM J. LONG has written a number of books about wild animals and has acquired a knowledge of the habits of these animals from a thorough study of them through a considerable period of time. This careful investigation of the conditions in which wild animals live and of the habits of the animals qualifies him to speak with considerable authority on this subject. The fact that what he has to say is not in agreement with the viewpoints of others is not a momentous matter, and the reliability of the witnesses must be tested before a decision is made as to who is right and who is wrong.

Mr. Long has found a condition of life among wild animals that is so utterly at variance with what has been said to be true of wild life by other writers that many will be led to think seriously over this conflict in viewpoint. It has been quite generally held that "nature is red in tooth and claw," and out of the perpetual struggle that men have believed to exist in the natural order, in which animals are ever struggling for existence and destroying each other in the struggle, there has been built up a philosophy that has strangely influenced the relations of human beings. Because men have claimed to find a struggle for existence in the natural order in which the fittest only survive, it has been argued that the same is true of the human order, in which only those who have hardened themselves for a struggle with their fellows can survive, and only those nations that have cast aside the milder virtues and embraced the sterner qualities can find a place in the sun. German writers used such arguments in leading the people to prepare for the struggle in which the Fatherland must some day engage, and the world knew a pentecost of calamity in which the world's best manhood was destroyed.

In his latest book Mr. Long tells a totally different story. He finds a beneficent order rather than one that is marked by a destructive intent in which animals savagely kill each other in their effort to survive. He says, "The natural law of cooperation is instinctively followed by every living thing from protozoan to elephant, man only excepted." The writer affirms that the general conception of the animal world as one in which the fittest survive through conflict and struggle took its form when "men began to crowd into towns and to struggle for wealth or power or supremacy."

Such a conception is interesting and should lead to a revision of man's ideas of the natural order. If he has been reading his failures into it, it might be well to take it as it is apart from the blemishes which he carries to it. If man alone fails to apply the law of cooperation in his dealings with his fellows he is not justified in finding this same failure in the other orders of life which he appraises as so much lower than his own, nor is he justified when he uses what he claims to find in the animal world in support of his own failures and to bolster up some conception he may hold. Only that which is true to the world which man sees may be used as true of man's relations, or to shape man's philosophy. If man has seen his own struggle to survive reflected in the animal world man may yet see his better nature reflected therein, but it is not right to see only one's own ideas reflected in the natural world, for one is duty-bound to interpret the facts as they are and to avoid coloring them as they are passed through the personality that interprets them.

Perhaps Mr. Long is a kindly man who sees beneficence written on nature's face, and the world would rather believe that it is as he says it is. The world has no right to accept without investigation the opposing opinions of others, who may be much less qualified than this writer to tell of what goes on among the animals. There are those who find music in running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything, and these may be nearer to the truth than the Bernhardt's and others of that school.

DWIGHT L. MOODY'S ATTITUDE MISINTERPRETED

It often happens that when a man has passed over the divide, if his name has stood for a certain attitude to truth, his name will be identified by others with extravagant statements of whatever creed they hold. This has been the fate of the great name, Dwight L. Moody. Institutions which he founded have departed entirely from his purpose and spirit and they seek funds to sustain their work by using, as a means of impressing the people with the character of their work, the name that swept America and the world and was loved by tens of thousands in this and other lands.

Using this name in this way is certainly unethical and honorable men deplore a use of a noble man's name to advertise something that is not of the nature of the things for which he stood while he lived. It might be said that those who use the name in this way have as much right to come to conclusions about the things Mr. Moody believed as others who think differently. This is perfectly true, but in either case, Mr. Moody must be judged by the way he lived and what he said and wrote.

No one is as well qualified to speak on this matter as Mr. Moody's own son who, in a letter written recently, says, in writing of his father, "He belonged to the nineteenth century and lived and labored and died within its limits. He must be taken against that background as Augustine must be taken against his, as Milton or Wesley against theirs. But in his day—he was in his prime in the seventies and eighties—when his work was done and his schools established he was, for those days a liberal. Were he living today, an old man of eighty-six, he would be, I am convinced, more in sympathy with the men who, like Fosdick, are preaching what he loved to spread—the love of God and the power of Christ—than with those who are attempting to persecute them because they will not subscribe to certain shibboleths."

Paul D. Moody's voice ought to be heard on matters related to his father's attitude to important questions and a statement of this kind ought to give pause to those who would use Dwight L. Moody's name as being representative of things which it never did represent.

from the neighborhood in which Warren Harding was born. The train will have to proceed slowly through the crowds, and may not reach Marion before 2 p. m.

SADDEST ORDEAL IN MARION'S HISTORY

Marion, O., Aug. 9.—Marion awoke today to the saddest ordeal in her history.

The body of Warren G. Harding was to arrive at 10 o'clock this morning to be buried here tomorrow, with perhaps the simplest rites that ever attended interment of a president.

The home town, only a year ago festooned with flags and bright colors in celebration of the last previous return of the president, was today decorated with the colors of mourning.

Early today Centre street, along the route from the Union station to the home of the president's father, was roped off.

FUNERAL TRAIN AT MARION, OHIO, 12:34 P. M.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Warren G. Harding is home again.

At 12:34 p. m. today this sorrowing city received back the body of her son, twenty-ninth president of the United States, who died in the service of the nation.

A hush, broken only by the solemn tolling of every church bell, fell over the town as the train moved slowly into the station.

At 12:38, with two short blasts of the locomotive whistle, the train drew into the station. All business in town was suspended, and thousands of citizens stood along the streets and as near the depot as the military guard would permit them.

At 12:43 p. m. the casket was removed through a rear window of the observation car, in which it has been carried from coast to coast.

There was no sound, save the deep clanging of the bells. While the coffin was being placed on a baggage truck, an honor guard representing all the branches of service and Mrs. Harding left the train.

She leaned heavily on the arm of presidential secretary George Christian. General Sawyer followed. Then came members of the cabinet and Senator Cummins and Speaker Gillette, representing both branches of Congress. George F. Harding, Jr., brother of the late president, and other members of the family were next to leave the train. Mrs. Harding walked slowly to her automobile. As the casket was being placed in the gray hearse by the pallbearers who were bent by its great weight, absolute silence prevailed, until the body had been placed in the hearse and Mrs. Harding had left the platform. Then a switch engine with clanging bell clattered over a crossing and the usual noises of the railroad yard were resumed.

At 12:52 the hearse started for the home of the president's aged father, Dr. George T. Harding, where a large crowd awaited it.

The slowly moving procession, lead by the hearse, surrounded by the honor guard, reached Dr. Harding's home at 1:15 p. m. As the party went down the street, with the sunshine filtering through the branches of over-arching trees throwing dapple shadows on the hearse, the crowd of friends and neighbors pressed forward and a rustle went through the crowd. Commanders of militia barked orders, and troops came to attention.

The casket was then carried into the house by the uniformed pallbearers. Mrs. Harding followed.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 9.—Clifford McAllister, serving 10 years at the St. Cloud Reformatory for grand larceny, escaped from the institution last night and was captured six hours later in the brush on a farm 14 miles away.

Officers of the reformatory said they caught the lad near Clear Lake. He was returned here.

McAllister was sentenced from Aitkin county. He is said to have been among the disturbers who recently attempted to stampede prisoners into a jailbreak. Ten prisoners were subsequently transferred to Stillwater State Prison "because they had an evil influence on younger prisoners."

SCHOOL BUILDINGS ARE IMPROVED

Extensive Alterations Are Being Carried Out in Various Buildings Before Fall Term

BUILDING COMMITTEE REPORT

3 Lower Grades Shifted From Washington to the Lincoln School Building

Quite extensive alterations are being carried out by the board of education in the various school buildings of the city preparatory to the opening of the fall term on Tuesday Sept. 4th.

At the regular meeting of the board on Monday evening the building committee submitted a very comprehensive report of its activities along this line. The report was on motion received and placed on file, and will be published in the Dispatch.

The recommendation of the committee to allow A. J. Johnson & Co., of Pequot $900 on their contract for improvements in the Lowell and Harrison buildings, and this amount was allowed. The board and contract as entered into with this firm and as approved by the city attorney, was accepted by the board.

F. H. McCaffery was awarded the contract for varnishing, cleaning and painting the interior of the Lincoln building. Harry Belmont was awarded the contract for installing additional radiation in the Washington building, made necessary on account of the fitting up of four additional classrooms.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb recommended the shifting of the three lower grade rooms from the Washington to the Lincoln building, and the transfer of three upper grade rooms from the Lincoln to the Washington. This is to allow only upper grade pupils in the Washington or high school building, made necessary by the crowded condition of this building. This recommendation was concurred in by the board, and the building committee authorized to change seats and desks in the rooms affected.

The building committee and officers of the board were authorized to improve the lighting facilities in the various buildings. The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for the finishing of the balance of the gymnasium on the third floor of the Washington building, bids to be received up to seven p. m. on Friday, August 17th. The secretary was further directed to prepare the specifications for this work.

The building committee was granted thirty days more time in which to make a recommendation for a man to fill the position of assistant janitor at the Washington building. The committee was also authorized to change the front steps at the south entrance of the Washington building.

Superintendent Cobb reported that a Mr. Oldenberg had been considered favorably as agricultural instructor for the twenty-one trainees of the disabled veterans bureau who have been located in the Brainerd vicinity. It was necessary that the sanction of the Minneapolis office of the bureau be obtained before an instructor could be hired, and when Mr. Oldenberg appeared before the officials, they thought so highly of him that he was retained for the Minneapolis field.

This will delay the local board of education until another man can be located and approved by the Minneapolis office. Everything is in readiness to start the agricultural instruction as soon as the instructor is obtained. The board had hoped to have the work in progress by this time. On last Friday the secretary supervised the unloading of a 2 1/2 ton white truck, which was shipped from Chicago for use of the Brainerd trainees.

The resignation of Mrs. Eugenia McPherson was received and accepted. Mrs. McPherson taught in the Whittier school last year.

An application was received for the position of teacher in the grade schools from Miss Daisy Bane. It was referred to the teachers' committee for recommendation.

Treasurer Morrison submitted his quarterly report on the condition of the general fund and the sinking fund for the quarter ending July 31st. This report was referred to the finance committee for checking.

A communication was read from the Travelers Insurance Co., giving a report on the recent internal and external inspection of all boilers. With the exception of a few minor items, these boilers were reported in good condition.

The payrolls and a number of repair bills were allowed and the board adjourned at 11:15 p. m. All members were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson.

The committee on buildings, grounds and janitors, of the Brainerd board of education, submitted the following report at the regular meeting of the board on Monday evening. This report covers repairs, cleaning, alterations and improvements now under way in the school buildings of the city.

Washington School

Good progress has been made so far on the main stairway leading from the third floor to the basement on the south side of this building.

Work will be held from now on, pending arrival of mill work. The secretary has written to the Johnson people of Minneapolis, asking that this mill work for the stairway be rushed along, that our work was being held up for this material. Also that if any part of the work was ready, to ship it and let the remainder follow as soon as possible. To date we have not heard from these people.

We are of the opinion that this work will turn out to the entire satisfaction and gratification of all concerned.

The cement steps at the street landing are laid and we fear that this part of the work will have to be done over again and the steps relaid. We ask the board members to inspect this part of the work and be prepared to pass judgment.

Additional radiation will be needed and to furnish and install this equipment the committee has called for bids to be in this evening, and we ask the board to open same and award the contract.

The shower baths are to be moved from the present location next to the book room in the basement to the boys toilet room. A small partition is being placed in the center of the boys toilet room and against this partition will be placed the steel lockers purchased by the class of 1923. The space made vacant by moving the shower baths will be taken up for book room purposes.

Lincoln Building

The building should be cleaned and painted in the interior and the wood work given a coat of varnish.

The committee has asked for bids for this work, said bids to be opened by the board this evening and contract awarded.

Lowell and Harrison Buildings

The A. J. Johnson & Co., of Pequot is making good progress with its contract. Good material and good workmanship is in evidence and there is no delay noted in the progress of the work. We recommend this firm be allowed $900 to apply on its contract. Folding doors are being placed on the Harrison building and this work will be completed for the opening of school.

Garfield Building

The decorating of the interior of the Garfield building has been completed by Contractor Bowen. The committee has not been able to inspect the work and we recommend that the bill for the work be allowed subject to the approval and inspection of the building committee.

Workmen are busy in nearly all school buildings and the work is being crowded in every possible way to get the buildings ready for the opening of school.

In some instances janitors will possibly have to have assistance in order to get their buildings ready for school work on the 4th of September.

The finishing of the renovated seats has been about completed with the exception of the Whittier building. Mr. Webster will need help to get his work cleared away in time for the open of school.

Salvation Army Service

The Salvation Army will hold a memorial service for the late President Warren Harding, tomorrow (Friday) at the noon hour in the N. P. railroad shops.

There will be special music.

Such men as usually go home for their dinner, are asked to please bring their lunch, in order to be able to take part in the service.

BRAINERD HUGGER FRIGHTENS GIRLS

Seizes Ankle of One as She Was Walking on South Side Street Last Night

CAUSES MUCH EXCITEMENT

Claimed Assailant Lay Under a Hedge Close to the Walk, Scaring Girl Into Hysterics

Brainerd's "Jack the Hugger" continues to ply his nefarious work frightening women and children. In spite of redoubled vigilance on the part of citizens and police, he frightened a grandmother, age 72, cutting her face and lips. She defended herself and screamed and the assailant fled.

Last night on the south side of town, as related by a citizen, the man lay under a hedge close to a walk and as two girls passed by in the dusk of the evening, he grabbed the ankle of one. The girl fell down and bruised herself. In the outcry raised by the girls, the man escaped.

SPORTS

CRUIQU AND WILDE SHOW THEIR GAMENESS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 9.—Because there were a few, a very few, examples to prove the point, it has been a generally accepted opinion in the United States for a good many years that gameness was not one of the qualities of European fighters.

Through a hard-boiled idea that a fighter is a "dog" who resigns under punishment, Americans after scanning the notation of "retirements" on the records of European fighters, got the idea that there wasn't a real fighting heart on the other side.

When Carpenter was being steamed up as a candidate for the heavy-weight championship three years ago, the skeptics pointed out: "He quit every time he had a hard fight."

When a casual mention was made of Joe Beckett and the chances of the British heavyweight champion against Dempsey, scoffs came back and retorts followed that he was the world's diving champion, without an argument.

There may be timid hearts among the European boxers. There are bound to be because there are faint-hearted ones among the American fighters. No figures are available to back up the points that the ratio of back-steppers in the European ring is no greater than it is on this side.

There are two good examples to prove the point that in at least two cases America has no sole rights to game fighting hearts.

No gamier, or more stout hearted and willing fighters than Jimmy Wilde and Gene Cruiqui have ever drawn on gloves.

Whatever suspicion might have been directed at Wilde, the former fly-weight champion, were not based on anything that could be found on his record, but upon the general assumption that he was British and could not stand the gaff.

Wilde was the last of the world's champions that England owned, and since he was held up before his fight with Villa as the representative of the whole English class, it only follows that he should have been considered the same after the fight and that he proved himself about the gamest little fellow that was ever beaten up and out of a title.

Punched dizzy by Pancho Villa, floundering around the ring out of his head, he was carried on only by the urge of a game heart.

Wilde was praised as much for his gameness in defeat as Villa was for his part in victory.

CRIGUI AND WILDE SHOW THEIR GAMENESS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 9.—Because there were a few, a very few, examples to prove the point, it has been a generally accepted opinion in the United States for a good many years that gameness was not one of the qualities of European fighters.

Through a hard-boiled idea that a fighter is a "dog" who resigns under punishment, Americans after scanning the notation of "retirements" on the records of European fighters, got the idea that there wasn't a real fighting heart on the other side.

When Carpentier was being steamed up as a candidate for the heavyweight championship three years ago, the skeptics pointed out: "He quit every time he had a hard fight."

When a casual mention was made of Joe Beckett and the chances of the British heavyweight champion against Dempsey, scoffs came back and retorts followed that he was the world's diving champion, without an argument.

There may be timid hearts among the European boxers. There are bound to be because there are faint-hearted ones among the American fighters. No figures are available to back up the points that the ratio of back-steppers in the European ring is no greater than it is on this side.

There are two good examples to prove the point that in at least two cases America has no sole rights to game fighting hearts.

No gamier, or more stout hearted and willing fighters than Jimmy Wilde and Gene Crigui have ever drawn on gloves.

Whatever suspicion might have been directed at Wilde, the former fly-weight champion, were not based on anything that could be found on his record, but upon the general assumption that he was British and could not stand the gaff.

Wilde was the last of the world's champions that England owned, and since he was held up before his fight with Villa as the representative of the whole English class, it only follows that he should have been considered the same after the fight and that he proved himself about the gamiest little fellow that was ever beaten up and out of a title.

Punched dizzy by Pancho Villa, floundering around the ring out of his head, he was carried on only by the urge of a game heart.

Wilde was praised as much for his gameness in defeat as Villa was for his part in victory.
